

JOB READINESS

ASSESSMENT AND PREPARATION PROGRAM

Job readiness includes being aware of your values, aptitude, key personality items as well as key skills relevant for task, people & personal leadership at work

Value is what you seek from workplace to keep you motivated. Aptitude is an indication of your abilities to learn and meet cognitive requirements of work. E-I dimension of personality gives an idea of possible work adjustment. Together with aptitude, it gives suggestions of possible career options. Task skills are important to complete assignments. Personal leadership is important for acting as a responsible & accountable corporate citizen. People leadership skills help you work within teams as well as manage teams well.

This solution is an assessment of your values and people leadership skills. It is aimed to identify strengths and growth areas.